

Public procurement is a key lever in the transition towards circular economy. Yet, circular and green public procurement (CPP/GPP) are still under-spread practices for most of the companies and public administrations.

To scale up those practices, GREENER offers to improve the skills of administrative and middle managers profiles involved in circular and green public procurement processes in companies and public administrations.

What to expect

- ✔ Support SMEs to understand the benefits and how to participate on circular and green public tenders.
- ✔ Provide training providers necessary resources to organise capacity building activities for SMEs and public authorities to improve the adoption of CPP/GPP.

Public Procurement accounts for over 14% of the EU GDP

SKILLS FRAMEWORK: analysis of the barriers and skills gap that hamper the diffusion of CPP/GPP and identification of emerging skills in administrative profiles

TRAINING COURSE: adapted to public authorities and SMEs' needs

TOOLBOX: for the development of Initial and Continuous Vocational Education Training (I/C-VET) programs to help companies successfully apply for tenders that incorporate circular and green requirements
